BESSEY® Compact Aviation Snips D15A

The D15A Compact Aviation Snip is the first among professional hand snips. Smaller than the typical aviation snip but, they have just as much power and, at an extremely reasonable price.

The first thing that catches the eye is the unique design. At only 7-3/16 In. (18 cm) long, the D15A snip is extremely compact. With shorter handles and a compact cutter head, they are able to reach cramped places and handle the smallest circles. Even if their overall length is distinctly shorter than other snips they can still deliver a punch because of the optimized cutting angles and enhanced leverage.

Because the lock and stop are combined, they can be closed and locked with just one finger, which is easier than with traditional leverage snips. The highlight of the tool's construction is that the standard dimensions of the handle opening angle are designed to allow the full cutting length to be used. Please note: The D15A comes in left, right or straight cutting versions
